

KING PETER
TAKES CHARGE

He Pardons All Exiles,
Even the Murderers
of the Late King
Alexander.

IS VERY POPULAR

His Recent Decrees Have Made Him More of a Favorite Than Ever.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
Belgrade, June 26.—Affairs under the new king seem to be progressing quietly. Reports state that everything is peaceful. Newspapers today announce amnesty to all offenders which includes assassins of the late king and queen. There is general satisfaction in this as it was feared he would seek to follow Russia's advice and punish the officers who took part in the recent revolution.

Peter More Confident
The new king is more self-confident, apparently. It is remarked on all sides that the king seemed hourly to assume a more commanding attitude as he gains a firmer grasp on affairs. His demeanor when he took the oath and the expression on his face showed more masterfulness.

The absence of the diplomatic corps from his reception made a marked impression on the new ruler. He has already held a lengthy conference with Premier Avakumovic on the subject. It is believed that the question of the punishment of the assassins of King Alexander and Queen Draga will be allowed to lapse. It was remarked that Col. Maschin, minister of public works, who took a leading part in the assassinations, kept in the background during the ceremony at the parliament building.

A considerable number of the poorer classes of the people have placed candles on the tombs of King Alexander and Queen Draga.

DRAGA'S SISTERS ARE PENNILESS

Lawyers Refuse to Aid Them to Secure Their Sister's Millions.

Vienna, June 26.—The two sisters of the murdered Queen Draga, who arriving here on June 13, having narrowly escaped the fate of their sister, are in a state of great poverty. They brought no baggage with them and their limited supply of money gave out after a few days. Their plight became known to Emperor Francis Joseph, and a sum of money sent by him is all that stands between them and starvation. At present they are trying to find a lawyer who will establish their claim to the millions said to have been deposited in a Brussels bank by the queen, but so far they have found none willing, though they have offered a large commission being unable to pay a retaining fee.

HODERVARY WILL FORM A CABINET

The Resignation as Ban of Croatia Is Greeted with Much Pleasure.

Vienna, June 26.—Count Hodervary's formal acceptance today of Emperor Francis Joseph's invitation to form a new Hungarian cabinet entails his resignation as ban of Croatia and much satisfaction is expressed by the Croats at his retirement after twenty years of unpopular rule. The Vienna press unanimously condemns Count Hodervary's surrender to the demands of the opposition in the diet, characterizing it as the first step toward the dissolution of the present liberal majority, and, consequently, as bringing perilously near the breaking up of the dual system of government of Hungary and Austria.

ALLEGED POISONER ON TRIAL

Witness Declares He Bought Strychnine for Mrs. McKnight.

Kalkaska, Mich., June 26.—The examination of Mrs. Mary McKnight, who, according to Prosecuting Attorney Smith, confessed to him that she poisoned her brother, Joseph Murphy, and his wife and baby, was begun before Justice Kellogg.

Joseph Battenfield, the first witness, testified that he was present at Murphy's death, and the death agony, as he described it, was typical of strychnine poisoning. The witness also testified that three or four days before Murphy's death he secured some strychnine for Mrs. McKnight at a Five Lake drug store.

The next witness was Dr. P. W. Pearsall. He testified to removing Murphy's stomach after the body had been exhumed, and swore that there were evidences of strychnine poisoning.

GERMAN SOCIETIES
MAKE HEAVY GAINS

Now Have Eighty Seats in the Reichstag and Stand Second in Number.

Berlin, June 26.—The Social Democrats now have eighty seats in the new reichstag, having gained twenty-four on the second ballot, mostly from the Conservatives and Liberals. A remarkable political situation has developed in the kingdom of Saxony, twenty-two of its twenty-three mandates having been given to Socialists. There is an especially interesting situation in Leipzig, where a Socialist has beaten Prof. Hasse, a Bismarckian Nationalist. Among the elected are Herr Barth, a leading free trader; Eugen Richter, the Radical leader; Herr Mommsen, a Liberal, who is a son of Prof. Mommsen, and Prince Herbert Bismarck, a son of the late chancellor.

In the new reichstag the Social Democrats will hold the second place numerically, as they will have about eighty-five seats. The Catholic, or Center party, will hold the first position, with about a hundred members. The agrarians as a party have almost completely disappeared. They will perhaps have two members.

The result of the elections will certainly not affect the tariff, which will be modified only so far as is necessary for concluding commercial treaties. The victory of the Socialists simply means a protest against the emperor's personal policy, and they are not likely to have any success in the house.

Sister of the Filipino Leader Lopez Lost Her Jewels in a Sleeper Last Night.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
Buffalo, June 26.—Senorita Clemencia Lopez, a sister of D. Lopez, the Filipino leader, was robbed last night of three thousand dollars worth of jewels on a Lake Shore sleeper last night. No clue to the robbers has been found.

BREAK'S JUDGE HILTON'S WILL

Son Wins Contest in the New York Court of Appeals.

Albany, N. Y., June 26.—Henry G. Hilton, son of the late Judge Henry Hilton, who was cut off with only a conditional $25,000 by the will in which his father disposed of an estate valued at $5,000,000, has won another victory in his long fight to increase his income from the large estate. The Court of Appeals upheld a decision of the Supreme court in which it had been held that the heirs of Mrs. Agnes Hilton, wife of Henry G. Hilton, were not entitled to the income from the $25,000 inheritance.

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF A GIRL

The stomach was forwarded to the state laboratory for analysis. Suspicious circumstances surrounding Miss Gill's death prompted an investigation by the insurance order.

RUSSIA WILL HAVE LETTER

It Is Thought That the Czar's Ministers Will Not Dare To Refuse It.

EXPECT ANSWER

Russian Minister Has Notified His Government of Position of American Public.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
Washington, June 26.—It is not at all likely that the Russian government will refuse to receive the petition sent by President Roosevelt regarding the treatment of their co-religionists in Russia by the American Jews.

Pleasant Answer
The memorial will be forwarded and unless a pleasant answer is returned the officials at the state department will be very much surprised. It is believed that the Russian minister recognizes the strong anti-Jew sentiment in the country.

Mark of Friendliness
It is thought that Russia will accept in order to show the United States a particular mark of friendliness. It is also certain that such a step would help President Roosevelt out of an awkward position.

WHITES RIOT
WITH BLACKS

Wilmington Police Disperse Participants in a Pitched Battle.

Wilmington, Del., June 26.—Whites and negroes became involved in a riot in the streets here which developed into a pitched battle, but the police charged the crowd and quickly restored order. Two arrests were made.

A large gang of negroes, numbering probably 200, who had been marching up and down Ninth street, was challenged by about twenty-five white men and in the conflict that followed over a hundred shots were exchanged.

Police Charge Mobs.
A squad of policemen, under Captain Evans and Sergeant McDermott, charged upon the mob. The negroes and whites scattered and fled in all directions, but the police succeeded in capturing two negroes—Leander Moore and Joseph Shockley. The policemen used their clubs freely, and in the melee attendant upon the arrests, McDermott and Patrolman Green received slight wounds. One negro, James Mercer, was shot in the head, but his wound is not believed to be serious.

Negro Is Shot.
In a brawl in another part of the city William Cramer, a negro, was shot in the stomach by a white man. He was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

The leaders of the negroes who were marching on Ninth street declared that they intended to resist the attacks made upon members of their race. They say they have been badly abused, and that they do not intend to quietly submit to such abuse.

Approve the Lynching.
They say they have no sympathy for White, the negro who was lynched, but that on the contrary most of their race in and about Wilmington approve of his lynching.

Arthur Corwell of Indiana, who was arrested in connection with the lynching, will have a hearing to-morrow.

The situation in this city was so serious that Governor Huns made it best to call a meeting of the judiciary to canvass the situation. A two-hour conference was held at the court-house, but what was discussed and what plans, if any, were decided upon were not made public.

Governor Speaks.
In an interview Governor Huns said: "Conditions at Wilmington are a great humiliation to the entire state. The fair name of Delaware has been dragged in the mire. It was no ordinary mob that released the man who murdered Miss Bishop. The crowd seems to have been composed of good citizens. The effect of their work has been disastrous. The law must now be sustained at any cost. I have not yet decided whether or not troops of the state will be used to protect its officers in the discharge of their duties."

Rabies Prevalent in Chicago.
The prevalence of rabies has reached such dangerous proportions in Chicago that education of policemen in the symptoms of the disease is urged as necessary.

ALLEGED CROOKED
WORK IN DETROIT

Public Works Commissioner Is Deposed from Office by the Council.

Detroit, Mich., June 26.—The common council, by a unanimous vote, deposed from office Public Works Commissioner D. W. H. Moreland. The commissioner had been under fire for some weeks, and various charges had been preferred against him, and investigated by a committee of the council. Among other charges it was alleged that the commissioner had misapplied public funds and had neglected the duties of his office.

Grand Jury to Probe.
Following upon this Prosecuting Attorney Ormound F. Hunt, after a consultation with the six circuit court judges, decided to petition the court for a grand jury to investigate the alleged corruption and bribery in certain city and county offices. The petition will undoubtedly be granted. One of the first offices to be looked into is the department of public works, from which Moreland has just been removed.

Mayor William C. Maybury has named his cousin, William H. Maybury, a democrat, as Moreland's successor. This throws a part of the republican machine in the democratic control.

Starts Libel Suits.
Until last Saturday Mr. Moreland was a regular attendant at the meetings of the investigating committee, but he has not been seen since then, and careful search fails to reveal his whereabouts. The papers assert that he has gone to Mexico. Moreland started two $50,000 suits for criminal libel against an evening paper and Contractor George E. Currie, who asserted that he received a rakeoff of 6 cents per lineal foot on all Medina curbstone purchased for use in this city. After his disappearance letters were produced by Mr. Currie before the committee to substantiate this statement.

Pavements Are Poor.
The pavements of Detroit, from testimony produced before the committee, are in bad condition, the evidence showing that they have not been laid according to specifications and that the city has paid high priced prices for poor material and poor work by contractors.

Moreland took possession of his office by virtue of a ripper act of two years ago, the legislature abolishing the three commissioners, substituting a one man board. Opponents of the one man board call attention to the fact that Frank C. Andrews, who wrecked the City Savings bank to the extent of $1,000,000 and who is serving a fifteen year term in Jackson prison, was one of the principal "rippers."

TWO MEN ARE FATALLY BURNED

Chemist's Endeavor to Save Friend Will Cost His Life.

New York, June 26.—While experimenting with chemicals in the laboratory of their leather factory, 455 Keap street, Williamsburg, Thomas B. Hobbey and Samuel Marsh were fatally burned. CONCILIATION BOARD
ORGANIZES FOR WORK

Operators and Miners Adopt Rules for Settling Disputes in the Hard Coal Fields.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 26.—The board of conciliation, which was created to adjust any grievances which may arise between the anthracite operators and their employees, met here and organized. William L. Connell of Scranton, one of the operators' representatives, was chosen chairman and Thomas D. Nicholls of the mine workers was elected secretary.

Rules were adopted for the settling of disputes, which are in effect as follows:

All grievances of the men must be presented to the foreman of the mine, and in the event of a dispute with him to the superintendent or the manager. Should this fail the employees shall present their troubles in writing, accompanied by their evidence. If an interview should be refused by the mine officials within ten days an appeal may be taken direct to the board of conciliation, who will endeavor to secure the interview.

The board will notify the company when a complaint is received and if necessary request the presence of both parties for a hearing. The action will be the same when complaints are made by employers.

Inasmuch as the strike commission provided in the award that no suspension of work will take place pending the adjudication of any complaint, the board will not consider any question unless the employees remain at work.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON DINES
AT THE WHITE HOUSE TODAY

Was the Guest of Honor at the President's Table This Noon.

(Special By Scripps-Mellae.)
Washington, June 26.—Sir Thomas Lipton is the guest of honor at the White House this noon. The dinner is most informal and the president and his guest chatted for several hours before the lunch. The president has been invited to witness the great race from the yacht Erin and the president has accepted.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

A state of anarchy is said to exist in Delaware. The mob that burned the Wilmington negro has defied the authorities. The militia is said to be in sympathy of the mob. A race war is feared.

The board of conciliation for the anthracite coal districts has met and adopted rules relating to the consideration of grievances.

C. N. Winter has been held to the Grand jury at Birmingham, Ala., on a charge of peonage in detaining a colored girl at his contractors camp on the line of a new railroad.

A special grand jury has been called to indict McCray, the negro who murdered detective Murphy at Peoria, Ill.

Saloon keepers in Chicago, who have a "pull" as a result of political affiliations are said to be practically free from observances of city ordinances.

The freight handlers strike in Chicago and Alton railroad warehouses has not proved effective, as the road filled all the vacant places with non-union men in a few hours.

St. Louis negroes will join in the hunt for the murderer of the white girl and assailant of a negroess.

A class of thirteen young men have graduated at the Illinois college Jacksonville and Chicagoans are given honorary degrees.

The citizens' bank at Milton, Ind., has failed with probable liabilities of $50,000.

Nine hundred union carpenters have struck at the Chicago stock yards because their demand for a 30 to 50 per cent. increase was refused.

The Kohlhaas bakery in Chicago has been re-opened with twenty-five nonunion bakers; the pawn brokers clerks have organized.

Municipal ownership and operation of the Staten Island ferry line was decided on by Mayor Low of New York; the purchase of the present line proposed and equipment with new boats at a cost of $2,000,000.

Dr. Jewett was in the seventh division of the appraisers' stores. He has been examiner of drugs and similar articles. It was rumored that his dismissal was due to charges made by Wilbur F. Wakeman, former appraiser.

CORNELL FAVORED

In Betting Circles the Ithaca
Oarsmen Are Counted
Best, with Wisconsin in Second.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.)
3:40 p. m.—Cornell wins the four-oared race by a half length. Pennsylvania is second by four lengths. Wisconsin is third. Columbia is fourth. Time—11:33 2-5.

Weights and Odds on Varsity Crews

Crew	Ave. weight	1st place	1st or 2d	Odds
Cornell	175	1 to 2	1 to 10
Columbia	165	3 to 1	2 to 3
Wisconsin	172	2 to 1	1 to 1
Pennsylvania	165	3 to 1	1 1/2 to 1
Syracuse	165	10 to 1	6 to 1
Georgetown	162	10 to 1	6 to 1

Poughkeepsie, June 26.—A hundred and four lusty oarsmen, the pick of brawn and muscle of half a dozen American colleges could not repress a shout of joy this morning when they awoke to find a clear sky and scarcely a breath of air stirring. It is ideal weather for today's great intercollegiate regatta. All crews were astir early. Betting this morning made Cornell a two to seven favorite against the field. With Cornell barred it was even money Wisconsin against the field.

Poughkeepsie, June 26, 2 p. m.—All is excitement here this afternoon and the river is filled with all sorts of craft that have brought visitors for the annual boat races. Cornell still remains favorite with Columbia and Wisconsin second choice. Wisconsin appears to be better than is thought for while Pennsylvania is a dark horse whose strength will develop later. Many prominent college presidents and professors are here. Among them is Dean Birge of Wisconsin. At the training quarters visitors have been excluded by the coaches and everything is being done to keep the minds of the oarsmen off the great struggles which begin at four o'clock.

The Programme
4 o'clock—Four-oar race, two miles, Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

4:45 o'clock—Freshmen eight-oar race, two miles, Cornell, Columbia, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania and Syracuse.

6 o'clock—Varsity eight-oar race, four miles, Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania, Georgetown, Syracuse, Wisconsin.

Referee—John E. Eutis, of Wesleyan.

Timekeepers—Evert Jansen Wendell of Harvard and William Insford of Pennsylvania.

Judge at the finish—Frederick R. Fortmeyer of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen.

Pink of Condition
All the crews are in the pink of condition. Light work has been the order for yesterday's work with the exception of Pennsylvania whose crews did a good four-mile gait picking up the freshmen crew a mile from the finish and beating them in a sensational finish. Cornell, Wisconsin and Columbia all went off for a short paddle on the river. Wisconsin took two miles up and two miles back. The water was rough and the matter of form was not to be depended upon. The boat is rowing well and thirty seems to be the maximum of stroke.

Four-Oared Race
At prompt four the four-oared crews from Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Columbia and Cornell, started from the two-mile post. This is Wisconsin's first appearance as a factor in the four-oared races and much enthusiasm was shown when this crew reached the starting point.

On the River
At half past four o'clock the five freshmen crews, Wisconsin, Cornell, Columbia, Pennsylvania and Syracuse, appeared on the river. They were escorted to the starting point two miles up the river by launches filled with enthusiastic undergraduates. As the boats reached the starting point the whistles on all the boats on the river boomed out a welcome and then all was quiet waiting for the signal for the boats to start.

Railroad Official and Former Wealthy Georgia Clubman Found Dead.

Brunswick, Ga., June 26.—The body of George Coates, a former prominent railroad and club man of this city, who had committed suicide near Urbana, a suburb of Brunswick, was found in an unfrequented wood. Mr. Coates used dynamite and his body was mangled into an almost unrecognizable mass. Mr. Coates was for years general agent of the Plant system in this city. He afterward became attached to the Brunswick and Birmingham railway as auditor.

MRS. SUSAN LOWELL HIBBARD FEELS HER FIRST EARTHQUAKE

WRITES OF FIRST DISTURBANCE
IN FOUR YEARS.

CALLING HAS ITS DIFFICULTIES

Former Janesville Young Lady Tells of Troubles in Learning Native Customs.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Hibbard have had their first experience with a Japanese earthquake, and Mrs. Hibbard writes concerning it, and other unique experiences in their Tokyo home, as follows:

"This is Sunday afternoon and a very, very rainy one even for this rainy week. I didn't venture out to church, so am all alone, with the bright fire in our open Harvard stove the typewriter, the servants and you, I have had a new experience this afternoon and one which you at home have never had, and which I hope you never will have. Nothing more nor less than a real live earthquake. Twice before in the night, I have been awakened from a sound sleep by the uncanny and unaccounted for motion of my bed. Once I called Lisle and he found when he came awake enough to know anything that his hand was on his revolver, which shows he had apprehended some danger or other. But I could find no old timer here who could substantiate our theory.

"This one today was a different matter however, as I was wide awake and, as far as I know in possession of all my faculties. I sat curled up in Lisle's easy chair all snug and warm, reading a book, when the chair and heavy table, all loose things in the room and worst of all the whole house began to slide back and forth. I could hear the small things on the dressing table in the next room rattling about and the house creak. Of all the creepy and uncanny feelings I have had this is the worst. To be sure, it is not quite as bad as being seasick, but it is not far from it. I can't blame the earth for quaking, however, for it has been soaked with rain until it is about the consistency of the pancake batter we used to use at our flap-jack picnics.

Unique Furniture
"I wish I could show you the fine new typewriter table and desk combined at which I am writing this letter. It is Lisle's handiwork, and is going to be very useful to us, I am sure. It is of the same native hardwood as all the rest of our library is to be when done. It is about five feet high and two or a little more broad. The top third is divided into various pigeon holes to fit typewriter paper, envelopes and things of that kind. The middle third—the part I am now using—is the table for the typewriter. It is bolted to a door on hinges which opens when the machine is in use and shuts it out of sight at other times. The lower third is simply one shelf for letter files.

"We are getting on slowly with the furniture because there are so many interruptions. The panels for the side walls are all planned, ready to be put up tomorrow and all the rest is ready to be put together, so unless something unforeseen comes up we shall get the most of our things done before the Phelps come, the last of the week, to spend some time with us. This done, some pictures of our house will be in order to be taken, I have furnished the net curtains and all the other requisites for our guest room, and made two bed spreads for our single beds this week. The spreads are dark blue cotton crepe with a chrysanthemum pattern in white. They were made with a broad valance and are very pretty, we think.

A Bad Earthquake
"Later. It is Monday morning now, and as beautiful as yesterday was disagreeable. The sun is shining into our library in all its brightness and making it very pleasant here. By the way, people who have lived here for years say that the earthquake of yesterday was the worst in four years.

"Monday evening: Another change. After a struggle to scrape up another lamp so that we both might have one, we got the cook's, which is a decidedly wobbly affair so that Lisle advises me to grab it if there is another earthquake. We had baked apples for dinner tonight with a beautifully browned crust over them looking like another baked apple. All they lacked was some cream to make them like home. There is no running up to the corner grocery now with a pitcher for five cents' worth of cream. I would go much farther for it if it could be obtained at a price poor people could pay. As it is, we are going to buy a can of condensed cream this week.

Party Under Difficulties
"Will you come to our first party, on New Year's? I feel now as if I had done a rather rash thing to invite so many when we haven't chairs or dishes enough to go round, but I didn't count on many when I began. Messrs. and Mesdames Phelps, Fisher and Helm, with ourselves, making a party, I would feel afraid of. But Mr. Fisher's mother and friend will probably be here and Mrs. Helm has two unmarried gentleman friends from North Japan, who are to spend the holidays here and so they will have to be included. The cook didn't seem to be at all alarmed at having so many, so I begin to feel a bit more confident. He isn't overly neat and tidy. I can't make him keep the tea towels clean with all my gentle reminders couched in one of the few Japanese phrases I have learned.

"Mrs. Fisher, who is a dear, isn't at all well at present, the result of overtaxing herself at a luncheon she gave for the wives of the Japanese and foreign secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. last Saturday. She said she lay awake all night before thinking of all the Japanese words she ought to be remembering for the next day, and hoping that if only one of the Japanese came it would not be the one who speaks no English. That was just what did happen, and poor Mrs. Fisher had a time of it. She finally had to call in Mr. Fisher to save the day.

Native Etiquette
"This lady, Mrs. Takamoto, behaved very well under such trying circumstances and by watching us very closely managed to eat everything properly except a pickle which flew off her plate from her fork. I am sure she did better, than I did later in the day when I went for the first time to call in a Japanese home. That was fun but dreadfully tiring. In an ante-room we sat down and took off our shoes throwing our cards in at an open door. When we put on bed slippers (Aunt Mary probably never thought of those she gave me a year ago serving such a purpose.) and went into the room.

"The lady is a graduate of a Presbyterian school here and speaks English well. She took us up some stairs, which were very small and steep, to a room upstairs without any furniture, where we had to sit on our heels during the whole call. My feet soon went to sleep and I became very uncomfortable, but our hostess was good enough to ask me to change my position if I wished, so I sat better. When she greeted us, we all bowed to the floor with our hands on our knees. I had a great difficulty, for my big heavier hat wouldn't let me get very far down. We had oranges (Japanese) which we peeled with our fingers, putting the skins on the floor, and tea from Japanese teacups which have no handles. On the whole, it was not at all bad. I think it will be fun when she returns the call.

Very Old China
"I must tell you about my purchase of six sauce plates, Saturday. Mrs. Fisher has been teaching me good blue china, the old and good from the new and machine made, so I experimented by buying some which I believe are old and are very pretty. There were one or two nicks, which only served to confirm my theory, so I paid ninety sen for the six and sent them home triumphant. At dinner time I sent one of the maids out to get one to show to Lisle. I heard her exclaim in disdain (also in Japanese) what meant "ninety sen, indeed! Awfully expensive. All broken." So either my servants do not appreciate old things or I was sold, I still believe the former to be the case, however."

DOINGS AT THE RAILWAY CENTER

Persons of Employees in the Local Yards and Along the Line.

Despite the contention of the railroad companies that the representatives of the Chicago Live Stock exchange were acting in bad faith and had no real interest in the complaint about live stock rates, which was argued yesterday, the interstate commerce commission today refused to dismiss the case. It was taken under advisement, which is an assurance that several months probably will elapse before a decision is announced.

The Omaha railroad company has served notice on its competitors that a change in time will be made next Sunday for two of its passenger trains. The Northwestern limited will leave Chicago at 6:30 p. m. and will arrive in St. Paul at 7 o'clock next morning. The fast mail, after Sunday, will leave St. Paul at 6:35 p. m., arriving in Chicago at 7 o'clock the next morning.

Edward G. Davis of Chicago has filed with the interstate commerce commission for an investigation of the tariffs of the Pere Marquette and Michigan Central railroads. He charges that the freight rates on his fruit and vegetable shipments from Michigan points are excessive and discriminatory and alleges arbitrary methods of consignment.

William H. Dodge, superintendent of the Sioux City division of the North-Western railroad, has resigned. He will be succeeded by F. Walters, at present assistant superintendent of the Ashland, Wis., division of the road.

J. N. Barr, assistant to the president of the Milwaukee road, is reported seriously ill in Chicago, having been seized with a hemorrhage of the stomach last Saturday at his office.

ARTIFICIAL STONE IS GAINING VOGUE

Cement Post is One of the Latest Developments of Growing Article of Popularity.

Near the office of the Cement Post factory samples of fence posts with the wire attached, samples of railway section and mile posts, also hitching posts and section markers, all made of the artificial stone, have been set up, and show the many ways that cement and broken stone or gravel is taking the place of natural stone. Many of the foundations to recently built bridges in Janesville are made of cement instead of stone, and cement is now used for a vast number of purposes that were not thought of a few years ago.

The art of producing stone by uniting various substances with some kind of cement has been practiced so long that its origin is lost in antiquity, says Uriah Cummings in the "Cement and Engineering News." Perhaps the earliest known instance of artificial stone making in the world may be accredited to the moundbuilders, the ancestors and immediate predecessors of our native American Indians.

Moundbuilders Made Stone
In many of the mounds that were built by that remarkable race of men are found specimens of what is popularly known as pottery. This would imply that the wares were made from clay, while in fact they are none other than artificial stone, the cementing agent being lime carbonate. There is sufficient proof to warrant the assertion that more than eleven thousand years have passed away since the days when the moundbuilders boiled salt brine on the banks of the Ohio river in stone kettles of their own handiwork. Coming down to historical times we find artificial stone was produced by the people who inhabited Europe, Asia and Africa at the very dawn of civilization.

Cement Unsurpassed
In one large collection of ancient mortars and concretes, there are some rock-like specimens of artificial stone that were made more than four thousand years ago. During the time of the old Roman empire, concrete was lavishly used and much of it still remains in good condition. Occasionally there have been inventions based on the employment of some cementing agency other than that of hydraulic or Portland cement, but these thus far have been found wanting, while the successful inventions have been founded on this material, which for the purpose is likely never to be surpassed or superseded. Practically all of the stone making processes that are now in vogue require the material to be but slightly moistened in order that it may be firmly rammed or pressed into the moulds.

Long Lasting.
It is a source of surprise that stones made under such conditions should be able to endure the storms of years as a vast majority of them do and it simply goes to prove what a wonderful stone-making material a good cement must be. To attain its high efficiency a cement must be supplied with all the water required for its crystallization at the time this change is taking place. There is a kind of manufactured stone that has recently made its appearance in some markets which bids fair to fulfill all the requirements of a perfect stone. It is called "litholite," and when it is used in buildings and has been tooled or rock-faced, it is next to impossible to distinguish it from the finest quality of natural stone. The cement stone age is at hand. In the early days of our country, the people had to be content with log houses. After many years of patient toil they began to construct houses of wood and these buildings in turn will be superseded by artificial stone.

Commencement exercises at Milton college yesterday were held in a large audience tent, there being no hall available to accommodate all who desired to attend. On the stage, in addition to the faculty, trustees, and class, were seated a large number of visiting alumni and out-of-town guests, among them were the Rev. L. C. Randolph, Alfred, N. Y.; E. J. Norcross and wife, California; Miss Agnes Babcock, Leonardville, N. Y.; Dr. G. W. Post, Chicago; Albert Bishop, Marshalltown, Ia.; Mrs. J. T. Polk, Greenwood, Ind.; Dr. C. H. Trustee Ingham announced that pledges and cash payments amounting to $5,000 had been secured for the Whitford Memorial hall, with good prospects for an additional $2,000 within twenty-four hours. This warrants the announcement that the corner stone will be laid with appropriate ceremonies one year from today. The building and equipment will cost $25,000 and is to be used as a science hall and library.

The class tree of 1903 was given a baptism of tar and feathers last night, but the seniors discovered it early this morning and planted another, and the public did not know the outrage had been perpetrated.

A Travelers Experience.

A party of gentlemen were gathered in the lobby of one of the leading hotels the other evening when an argument arose as to what Red Raven Spills really were. One gentleman, who was traveling for a big house in Indianapolis, ventured the assertion that notwithstanding the extensive advertising, out of the five in the party, not three could tell what Red Raven Spills were and to what uses they were put. When the matter was put to a test it was found that the Indianapolis man had won, and in the following language he told his experience with Red Raven Spills: "I have found, when traveling from place to place, taking my meals at different hours sometimes on the train and sometimes at the hotel, that my system became deranged, resulting in a sluggish liver, dizziness in the morning, lassitude and loss of appetite. I had seen the advertisement of Red Raven Spills and chanced to ask a druggist friend of mine what they meant. You can imagine my surprise at finding Red Raven Spills were the remedy par excellence for just such disorders as I was suffering from. I tried a bottle before breakfast the next morning, and found prompt relief. I learned that they kept it not only at the drug stores but at any bar at any hotel, and since then in all my travels, when suffering from headaches, indigestion or nausea, I have been promptly relieved by Red Raven Spills."

SEASONING OF POLES AND TIES

American Telephone and Telegraph Company Is Pushing Experiments.

The American Telephone & Telegraph company, which last summer extended its lines to this city, is experimenting this summer, through the bureau of forestry, with methods of lengthening the lasting power of cedar and chestnut poles. The bureau has sent several men to Wilmington, N. C., to study the loss of weight by cedar poles under proper methods of seasoning and the increased length of service of the poles which seasoning and preserving bring about. Similar work is being carried on near Harrisburg, Pa., with chestnut poles. In Bear Canyon, Gallatin county, Montana, and at Sheridan, Wyoming the seasoning tests with lodgepole pine, begun last summer, in co-operation with the Burlington railroad, will be continued under the direction of Reynold's hill. Experiments in seasoning and preserving longleaf pine ties will be carried on on a large scale at Silsbee, Texas, on the tract of the Kirby Lumber company. All this work will be done under the general supervision of Dr. Herman von Schrenk, an expert on timber treatment and timber diseases.

SALE RAPIDLY INCREASING

Mi-na, the Flesh Forming Food, increasing the weight of hundreds of People's Drug Co. Customers.

One of the greatest successes of late years, has been achieved by Mi-na, the remarkable flesh-forming food. Its sale here in Janesville is increasing so rapidly that the People's Drug company, the enterprising druggists who introduced it, are having hard work to keep it on hand.

It has become very popular with well-known bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession prevents their taking much exercise, while those who have been troubled with indigestion, malassimilation of food and loss of flesh, brought on by irregular eating, worrying or other causes, have found health and strength in this reliable remedy.

Mi-na is in the form of small tablets, and is sold in metal boxes, especially designed for convenience of carrying in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take and a few days' treatment shows considerable gain in health, while an increase in weight will be noticed after the first week's use.

Mi-na has been so uniformly successful in building up good, solid healthy flesh, and in curing all stomach troubles, that the People's Drug Co. sell it under their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of Mi-na.

Lack of flesh does not usually come from lack of food, but because the food is not properly assimilated by the tissues. If you are losing weight or if your weight is not what it should be, you should begin the use of Mi-na at once.

The People's Drug Co. have so much faith in the preparation that they will sell it under their agreement to pay for it themselves in case it does not give satisfaction. You can surely afford to begin its use today on these terms.

and W. M. Tolles made a business trip to Edgerton last week.

CLEVELAND HARD TIMES

Strangely short-remembered are the people who now fall to worship at the shrine of Grover Cleveland. The sins of which he has been found guilty by the Bryans and the Wattersons are too awful to be forgiven by any who swear by these two prophets are really nothing when measured against the great wrongs to the American people committed while the party was under the leadership of Mr. Cleveland. Brief thought upon the terrible injuries they suffered during the "Cleveland hard times" should bring the worshippers swiftly back to their senses, says the New York Press.

The name of Cleveland is hardly one to conjure with among investors of moderate means, whose values fell away or evaporated under Cleveland Free-Trade; among manufacturers whose mills were shut down while the foreign invader raided our ruined markets; among the artisans, whose empty dinner pails drove them to Cleveland soup houses; among depositors whose savings were swept away in almost daily wrecks of banks; among dwellers along the line of march of "Coxey armies" or among the farmers of the country whose crops went unsold while the commerce and industry of the country lay paralyzed.

Neither Mr. Watterson nor Mr. Bryan from plain motives of political delicacy, is laying stress upon these reasons why their party would have a heavy load to carry if it took up the Cleveland burden. Their own ideas or the ideas they must profess if they would keep their standing good in the democratic party, compel them to subscribe to the same heresy as that which brought upon the country the Cleveland bank failures, the Cleveland industrial and commercial ruin, the Cleveland era of damaged national credit, the Cleveland period of empty dinner pails; the Cleveland soup house of the never-to-be-forgotten "Cleveland hard times." But whether Mr. Cleveland or some one else is nominated by the democratic party, the question if it wants to go back to Cleveland "Tariff reform" and "Cleveland hard times" still will remain as the issue on which the people must pass. There is no getting away from that ugly fact.

And this is why every time a good Cleveland Free-Trade Democrat or a good Bryan Free-Trade Democrat hears or sees the word "Prosperity" and is again reminded thereby of the issue he will have to face next year, he flies into a violent fury and says all sorts of queer, foolish things.

MONEY SCARCE

With the city treasury in such a bad shape for finances and some wards practically without any money fatherly respective treasuries what ever it would seem that the council should turn into funds every method that is presented. It has been suggested that the poll tax might well be paid and that if this was done the revenues would be increased. It has also been suggested that the dog tax could be re-established and that if this was done a steady and sure course of revenue would be brought in that could be distributed to the different wards and avert the present stringency of the funds. This last plan seems to be a good one. If the city fathers need any encouragement as to the matter let them turn to Madison. Such a tax is in existence there and two years ago the chief of police started a crusade against owners who failed to pay their tax. August 1st was the date set as a limit and after that date from twenty to thirty cases a day were called in the municipal court of dog owners who had not paid up. Nor were the wealthy citizens neglected. Because they lived on Quality Hill was no excuse for their not coming up to time and paying as well as any one else. The payment of the dog tax and a fine of $3 was imposed in each case although the fine was usually remitted if the tax was paid. It was run to notice how quickly the curs of the street disappeared and how the snarling, snarling animals who were a nuisance to all were laid at rest. Even with these stringent methods the total number of dogs was something over a thousand that remained and they all wore a little brass tag that designated their claim to citizenship. It is an example that the Janesville council should find food for consideration and if they think the matter over carefully they may decide it is a wise plan.

FRUITS OF PROTECTION

"A tree is known by its fruits," said the sage of other days. Applied to the American Protective Tariff this is particularly true. All over our broad land we can see the fruits of the tree of protection in the shape of new or revived and increased manufacturing industries.

Factory buildings now exist on what was before vacant land. Old buildings, closed for years and falling into ruins, now present a bright front, are filled with busy workers, and constitute the best republican campaign arguments we can offer.

The morning, noon and evening processions of these busy people going to and from their work, are far more effective testimony than all the political processions we get up, or the brass bands and banners we use at election times.

Why is this? Because there is a tangible result, namely, the well-filled and regular pay envelope every Friday or Saturday.

It would be interesting to learn what sort of dickerings is going on down at Bogota all this time. Not many days can elapse before the Colombian statesmen must decide definitely whether they will settle the canal question or make the mistake of trying to gouge Uncle Sam for a larger price than they agreed to take.

Twenty-one dogs were to be seen in one block yesterday afternoon in the neighborhood of the East Side fire station when the alarm rang in at 2:30. Twenty-one dogs by actual count and but two of them looked to be more than mongrels. Here is where the dog license would do some good.

"The most interesting of any murder trial in England for many days" began on Monday and on Tuesday the prisoner was sentenced to hang. Evidently the Yankee idea of delay has not affected the English courts.

Willie Bryan may never have the lock jaw but he will have a hard time convincing his former adherents that his leaky old ship Free Silver is after all the best one to get aboard in case of storm.

When sailors on board the cruiser Kearsarge give their smoker to the German sailors at Kiel the Germans will find that Americans can say "prost" with as much feeling as any German that ever lived.

So all this talk about Russia's stealing Manchuria is a bluff and China is to still retain its sovereignty over it. That is what Russia says now. See what the results are.

Wait until our friend the Czar reads the protest sent him by Roosevelt against his treatment. He will be able to read that without any spectacles at all.

Perry Heath still sticks to the proposition that civil service reform is all that is for the best interests of the people. Certainly for a favored few but not for the public at large.

Harry Lehr's monkey is forgotten but his parrot that sits on his shoulder during meal hours and swears is the latest thing in pets to be smiled at by New York's 400.

Matt Quay it may be remarked, has been giving lessons in practical politics for years and it cannot be said that the country has received any material benefit.

There has been so much politics in the post office department all along that it is high time the administration at Washington was reaping a whirlwind or two.

Quite a number of people have had experience as Kansas harvest hands which may explain why the grand rush has not started that way.

Hati is figuring on having a crisis. That is a new wrinkle for the island republic and is a decided advance over the revolution which it ordinarily has.

Why should we have a school of politics? Enough of our young men learn to drink beer and smoke at college as it is.

Still it would be far more business like to have colleges to train our political servants than to pick them out of the slums.

So Yale has again downed poor old John Harvard in their annual boat race. It is safe to say that Gales Ferry was a warm old place last night.

After inspecting the Kearsarge Willie kindly telegraphed Roosevelt that he found the vessel all right and in highly efficient condition.

This great naval display at Kiel in which American men of war are playing an important part will be beneficial to both nations.

King Peter of Servia smokes cigarettes, has done so all his life and yet he came from a Pretender to be a real live king.

Topeka, Kansas, has had another scare in the water ways within the past twenty-four hours and fifty families have been forced to abandon their homes.

If Kansas has any more at home like Mr. Bristow the government should send for them.

Get out your straw hat and throw the responsibility on the weather man if it is frothbitten.

If Curtis Jett was as black as his name he would have been lynched long ago.

There is some hopes for democracy after all, now that Iowa has turned down the Kansas City fallacy.

Postmaster General Payne is not as breezy as he was.

Delaware is the latest state to get a reputation—of the kind.

Judging from Perry Heath's action he must be able to smell smoke.

QUIET FOURTH FOR THE CITY

JANESVILLE PEOPLE WILL CELEBRATE ELSEWHERE.

MONEY FOR OUTSIDE STORES

Merchants in This City Will Lose Many Dollars, and Clerks Will Have Restful Day.

No old time Fourth of July is scheduled for Janesville this year. The streets of the city will be as devoid of excitement as a deserted village. If indications are to be believed the city will be literally deserted. Attractions in every point of the compass will act as lodestones to draw money spending pleasure seekers away from the lower city—a bonanza for the surrounding cities at the expense of local merchants. In one direction a circus will draw its hundreds; in another the attractions of a pleasure park will be offered; and in almost any old direction a Fourth of July celebration may be encountered in city, town or hamlet.

At Athletic park the gun club will offer a splendid list of shooting events, hanging up substantial prizes for the gun men of surrounding cities. Albany, Edgerton, Monroe, and Brodhead are expected to contribute to the list of competitors. For a few hours a project was on foot to raise funds for a home celebration this year, but the business men who headed the plan started down the street to find glaring circus three-sheets staring them in the face and their ardor weakened.

PRESS COMMENT.

Beloit Free Press: The Myers house at Janesville is being painted "yaller."

Marquette Eagle: What a nice quiet campaign the democrats would have with Adlai Stephenson as candidate.

Green Bay Gazette: Under Serbia's new form of government Peter will have practically nothing to do but dodge intended assassins and hold down the throne.

Wisconsin State Journal: Of course there is no reason why United States Senator Charles should be retired in 1905 except that some one else may have his salary and may strut about with the feather in his cap.

Manitowoc Pilot: Reports received from the country districts are to the effect that smallpox is still causing trouble and health authorities complain that they are not given the aid of the public in their efforts to suppress and stamp out the disease.

Eau Claire Leader: The average gross returns per acre from cultivated land in this country is only $10.50 per acre, and from land devoted to the growing of cereals but $3.02 per acre. In Great Britain the intensive system of farming has brought the average gross returns up to within the neighborhood of $30 per acre.

Wisconsin State Journal: Farmers are in clover this year. The crop has seldom been so great. In northern Wisconsin many meadows give promise of a yield of three tons of the acre. It is the biggest crop of which there is any record. Land boomers are making the most of it.

Kenosha News: People who are unable to see any reason for the existence of patriotic societies can find a good one in the fact that it was chiefly through the efforts of these societies that the law to prevent and punish any desecration of the flag was passed.

Burlington Free Press: If the trust magnates carry out their threats to oppose Roosevelt in case he should run for president the latter has nothing to fear from present indications. For every vote that he will lose that way he will gain a half dozen from opponents of the trusts.

Ashland Press: Some fictitious values have taken wings, some watered stock has run dry. Some overheated speculators have cooled off. In other words business has increased in stability, during the past month or so, and most of the gas has been let out of hot air enterprises.

How Railways Eat Up Our Forests.
The annual demand for railway ties is 400 for each mile of track and the average life of a tie is seven years. It is an unusual acre of forest that has 300 trees that will make three ties each, and it takes fifty years to grow a tree that will make three ties. Therefore, 25 acres of forest are necessary for every mile of track. Electric railways, included, there are in the United States about 250,000 miles of road.

BUILDING AT ITS LOW EBB

VERY LITTLE CONSTRUCTION WORK GOING ON.

BIG CONTRACTS ARE SCARCE

Probably More Smaller Residences and Flats This Year Than Last.

Building operations are at the annual low ebb. For the coming four to six weeks, if the rule in past years holds good, there will be less work of construction begun upon than there has been at any time for several months past. Some contractors hold that there is less building under way than there was last year at this time. This statement does not meet with unanimous assent.

Fewer Big Contracts
"Everything seems to be remarkably quiet," said James Sherrer. One reason probably is that there are fewer public buildings than there were last year. There were but a very few residences built last season, but I do not know that there are many more this year."

L. L. Hilton holds that there is considerably more building under way this season than there was last.

Postoffice This Year
"Although the city hall and library are completed, the major part of the post office work is being done this season," he said, "and that almost offsets the other two. In the smaller contracts the number is decidedly larger this year. Last year only one flat building was erected, and that was late in the fall. This year there are nearly half a dozen, either being built, remodeled, or about to be built. The number of private residences is larger than last year."

Telegram from Servian Official.

John Gollmar, the exiled Servian, employed in the offices of the Parker Pen Company, is in Chicago in the hope of securing remission of his banishment.

He was summoned to Chicago by a telegram from the Servian consul, stationed in that city to the effect that his was one of the first pardons to be signed by King Peter Karageorgevitch.

None of Mr. Gollmar's friends in this city have received any word from him since he went to Chicago yesterday morning, and they disclaim and positive information regarding his pardon, although they understand that his hopes are high of being leniently treated by Servia's new ruler.

Before leaving Mr. Gollmar stated that his principal object in desiring to return to Servia was not the possibility of residing there, but the return of his property which was confiscated by the government at the time of his banishment.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janeville Daily Gazette, Friday, June 26, 1863.—Business has been partially suspended in Philadelphia and receipts and shipments of goods by the Pennsylvania Central railroad are temporarily suspended. The rebels have ten regiments, with artillery and cavalry, on South mountain, beyond Gettysburg.

South Harrisburg, June 25.—During the whole of last night and up to the present time, long trains of wagons with goods and household furniture have entered the city. Farmers are flocking in with their horses; also a number of contrabands of all ages and sexes. The matter of declaring martial law is under consideration.

When the rebels were at Greencastle, Pa., the copperheads attempted to ingratiate themselves into the favor of their southern friends, but invariably met with cold comfort. Their treason to the north was denounced by the rebels. Gen. Jenkins remarked to one of them that "if he had been President Lincoln he would have hanged Vallandigham a year ago; that he was a traitor, and the south did not want our rubbish."

Wisconsin has 13 infantry regiments, one cavalry regiment, and several batteries around Vicksburg. Some of the new regiments suffered terribly from the heat in marching from Mechanicsburg down. Several of the 27th died on the march from the effects of the heat. The 25th nearly all dropped out on the way. It is surprising to see the difference between old and new troops in marching. W. B. Britton, Major, 5th W. I. V.

From the Eagle Regiment.—For the first time in 43 days the regiment has tents to sleep in. We have been on another expedition, up the Yazoo river to Saratoga, 89 miles from Young's Point, La.

Light on Castro's Methods

Stephen Bonsal contributes an article to the North American Review entitled, "Castro: A Latin-American Type." The career of the president of Venezuela, strange as it has been, according to Mr. Bonsal, not unusual, for hardly a year passes but in one or other of the so-called South-American republics, a brigand chief claims himself dictator. The account which Mr. Bonsal gives of Castro's life, the opportunities that came in his way, the shrewdness with which he availed himself of them, his rise to power, and his method of government, is interesting, but not such as would lead a reader to desire earnestly to reside in the republic of which Castro is the head. If Mr. Bonsal be not mistaken, the president of Venezuela takes a view of the purposes of the Monroe doctrine which would not appeal to many Americans.

Of Castro's domination of the law courts, Mr. Bonsal says: "Castro's relations with the judiciary have been equally dictatorial. How likely the justices of the Supreme court are to restrain his illegal acts may appear from the following incident: In the fall of 1901, the chief justice and his associates, in the performance of their duties as prescribed by law, made their annual visit to the rotunda, or general prison in Caracas. Among the other scandalous conditions which they brought to light was the following: Over 100 prisoners were in jail, held on the executive order only and not by due process of law. Of those who had been properly committed 200 were absent, having bought their way out. The chief justice, a worthy man, who has been appointed by Andrade proposed to demand an investigation, although none of his associates would sustain him. However, before he had taken any action, a paragraph revealing the conditions found appeared in El Preponero, a fugitive, truth telling paper, long since suppressed. On the following morning the tribunal was invaded by soldiers and a military commission declared the court dissolved. A few hours later all the justices received a curt notice of their removal from office. Even the bar of Caracas was aroused and it was resolved that no member of the Bar association should accept the posts that had been vacated in this summary manner; however, the necessary quota of scamps was secured and the Supreme court resumed business. It is to this tribunal I may point out in passing, that the powers declined to submit their claims, greatly arousing the ire of the American's thereby, though at the same time they secured the approval of every American resident in Venezuela."

Crowded To The Wall

A North Carolina native had driven into town with his ox and cart, to see the circus, but had had the misfortune to lose the half dollar he had brought in his pocket. In his emergency he tried crawling under the canvas and got his head pincched.

"I've lost four bits and been licked," he said as he stood off and shook his fist at the man who had made his head ache, "an' I'll get even with this yere circus or bust."

His threat was laughed to scorn, but at midnight that night as the animals and wagons took the road they soon came to a highway bridge across which a man had stationed his cart to dispute the passage.

"I'm not onery," he explained, "but I've got tender feelins'. If it hadn't been for this circus, I'd never lost my fo' bits, I'd never been walloped. It'll cost ye $2 to git me out o' the way." The circus people argued the case for five minutes and then brought forward the big elephant. He was told what to do, and he did it. He picked the ox up in his trunk and threw him over the railing of the bridge, and of course the cart followed after. The native made no move to prevent, but as the way was clear and the wagons began to cross he threw down his hat and jumped on it and exclaimed:

"Now, yo' hear me! I've lost fo' bits and an ox and a cart, and I've been walloped by a man and crowded aside by an elephant, and now, shuck my hide if I don't make that sacred bull from India claw up his own ears if you'll bring him for'ds and gimme seven minutes to work in!"

tention paid to the soda fountain, whether it is conducted as an adjunct to a drug store or a confectionery shop. It is within the memory of a generation when the soda fountain was a trivial affair where a tired drug clerk would turn from compounding a prescription to draw a glass of carbonated water flavored with vanilla, lemon, sarsaparilla and two or three other extracts. The trade was unimportant, a sort of side issue. This went on until some bright individual bethought himself of imparting "body" to the drinks by adding ice cream. From the invention of ice cream soda dates the supremacy of the soda fountain.

There are dozens of soda fountains in New York which represent an outlay of from $5,000 to $10,000. They are made of the most costly materials, the choicest Mexican onyx, and frequently the plates are of sterling silver. The counter is of marble or onyx and the glassware is of the best. Nothing is left undone to make everything attractive to the patrons.

At the large fountains the expert "dispenser" receives a good salary. But he must be an artist, for there is art in drawing soda. It is not merely a question of putting in the flavor and turning on the water. Sometimes you might hit it, but more frequently your customer would discern something lacking and go to some other place. For a good glass of soda one should draw first two ounces of the desired flavor; then turn on the fine, then the coarse stream, finishing with the fine stream. Care should be taken that the syrup and water are well mixed, and that the product is not too foamy.

With phosphates even, more care must be observed, but the fancy drinks afford the best test of the "dispenser's" expertness. Take the matter of egg drinks. Your artist will give you an exhibition that will be as pleasing as the drink is refreshing. In the first place he will break an egg into the glass with one hand. This looks simple, but if you think it is, try it yourself and see how you fare. After he has added the other ingredients he will shake them. He has a whole lot of graceful movements as attractive as the exercises of a Delsartean professor. Then comes the "tossing." He will throw that foamy mixture from the shaker to the glass and vice versa, until there is a continuous stream at least a foot and a half long. And he won't spill a drop. After he has put the mixture in a clean glass he will "top" it with nutmeg, which is supposed to give the best finish to the summer drink. Your expert "dispenser" never neglects any detail which will catch the eye or tickle the palate of the patron.

A great improvement has been made in the flavors. They are no longer mere extracts. Crushed fruits of every variety are used. Skillful chemists and confectioners devote their best efforts to devising something new and palatable. Every quarter of the globe is ransacked, and importations are made from the far east, the Levant and South America. We have even won the secret of the famous sherbet of the Turks, for nothing is too good for the American soda-water girl.

You ask if all this pays—this onyx, fine glassware, polished tables for those who wish to sit down, the "dispenser" and the rest. Of course it does. It is not uncommon for a large fountain to take in one thousand dollars on a warm day. There are plenty of drug stores in which the well-kept soda fountain brings in more revenue than all the patent medicines and prescriptions put together.

"Few physicians and fewer people realize the extent of this terrible disease or its dangerous or treacherous nature."

It steals into the system like a thief and securely fastens itself on the constitution before its victim is aware of its presence.

Sometimes kidney disease may be likened to the approach of a panther on its prey, stealthily creeping along, until at last the fatal spring is made.

The secret of freedom from this dreadful disease is the liberal use of Dr. Lindley's Golden Kidney Cure. It must be taken at the moment of change from the standard of health is noticed, no matter where the affection seems to be located, and continued until every particle of impurity is removed and the kidneys are in a healthy condition. Dr. Lindley's Golden Kidney Cure is sold by most drug stores for 25 cents a bottle.
